

Ergonomic Analysis

Most comfortable: Amazon Basics

- Good size for my hand
- Comfortable for my ring finger and pinky to rest on the side
- Good contact throughout portions A, F, and E to give a sense of control when moving
- Curves and contour on the sides and edges fit my hand well

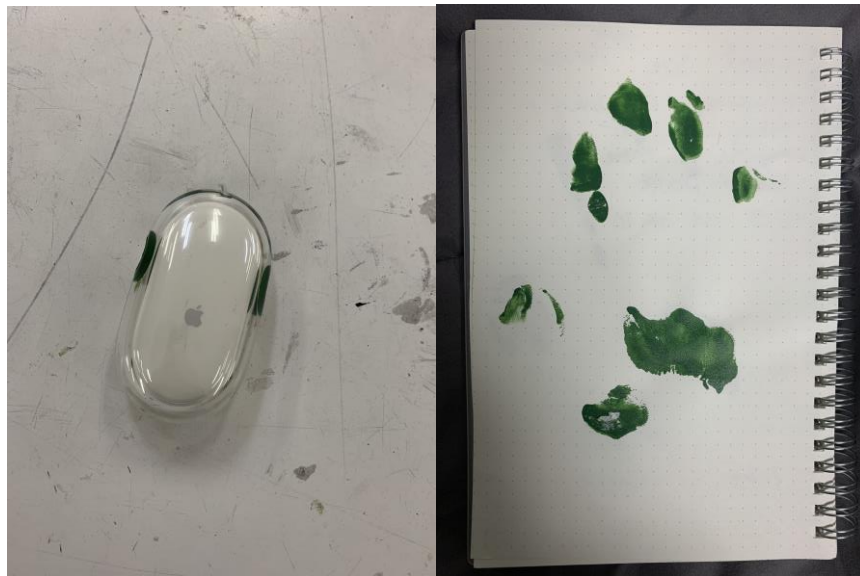

2nd: Lenovo

- Good size for my hand
- More contact for A1, B1, C1, D1
- I like that it narrows in the middle to rest thumb and fingers on the side

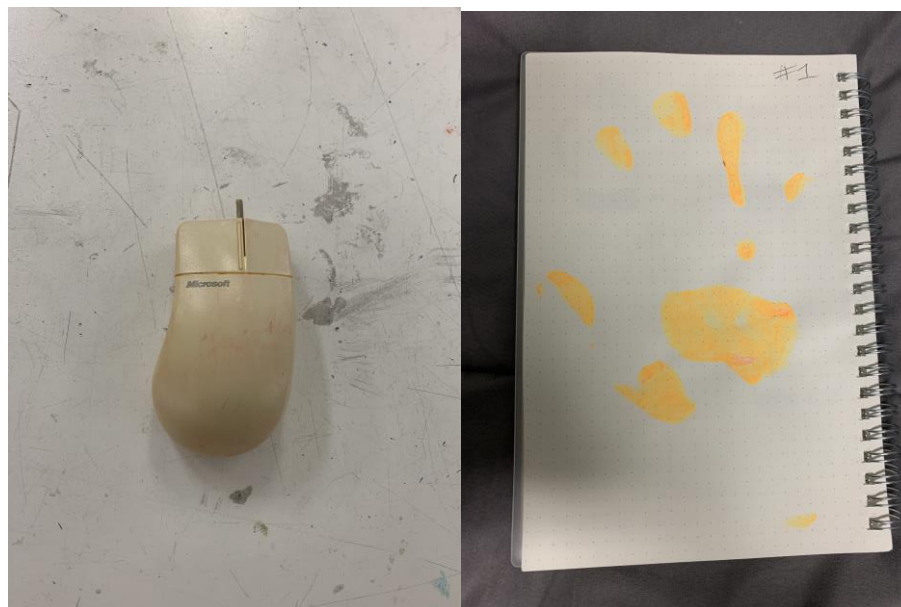

- Good palm support for F1, F2, and F3

3rd: Apple

- One solid shape with no contours or curves
- Side button is awkward
- Missing contact in A1 and E1 – very important
- Good contact in F1 and F2

Least comfortable: Microsoft

- Hits E2 very awkwardly because of the hump
- Too long – barely contact for any on A or B
- Did not feel like I could control it

- Too flat – too much emphasis on F1 and F2